The Two Great "Issues"

"One meets now and then," says Steele, "with persons who are extremely learned and knotty in expounding clear cases." Cicero somewhere in his philosophical works tells us of an author who composed a long treatise to prove that generals could never have performed the great enterprises which have made them illustrious if they had not had men. The example of many persons of renown is produced by this learned author to prove that nothing of great moment or consequence can be accomplished except those who undertake such enterprises have the assistance of others. Quite as profound as this writer was the famous Sir Hudibras,

Who'd undertake to prove by force
Of argument a man's no horse

and quite as profound as either Sir Hudibras or the author to whom Cicero alludes, are many of the Democratic writers of our time. A brief review of the "issues" they are attempting to make in the present canvass, will show how excessively wise, learnedly obscure and unusually knotty they are in expounding cases which need no elucidation. Of these points, some are obviously true, and others are obviously false, therefore argument upon them does but confuse the mind and render the truth obscure.

One of these "issues" or points is, that "the revolted States are not out of the Union." This is truly a great discovery. Let us be thankful that it has dawned on the Democratic mind at last. But this discovery, extraordinary as it is, is not altogether new. To a large majority of the people it has been a very familiar thing from the time it first became a matter of dispute, five or six years ago. Let us therefore, remind our Democratic friends who are so exultant because of their discovery and who claim the exclusive proprietorship of the wonderful idea, that they are hardly entitled to letters patent for it. Let us remind them that during the years when some of their number were laboring under a firm conviction that those States were theoretically, practically and lawfully out of the Union, and while others of their party were in the Doubting Castle, bound hand and foot by Giant Despair, not knowing whether the States were in or out of the Union, but almost certain that whether in or out they could never be brought under the authority of the Government again—let us remind the Democracy that while they were in this deplorable condition, the great question was already clear to minds more deeply imbued with patriotic faith than theirs and that while they were groping in darkness and doubt the problem was already solved by the people, proving that those States are still in the Union and that they never were out, as the Democracy claimed in 1861. The great truth having at last dawned upon the Democratic intellect, that secession was unlawful and futile, and that all the States are yet in the Union as of yore, our long benighted friends are in ecstacies over the discovery and, as is always the case with new converts, imagine everybody else to be ignorant of the "good tidings of great joy" with which themselves have so suddenly and miraculously become acquainted. Inspired by their new awakened zeal and thinking others in the darkness from which themselves have but just emerged, they begin to preach anti-secession doctrines with pathetic vigor to those who never entertained any other than national ideas and who fought against secession in the days when those proselytes—these tender babes in the creed of a national philosophy were quite certain that the Union was hopelessly disrupted and the Government utterly undone.

Therefore in their great endeavors to prove that the insurgent States are not now, nor ever were out of the Union, we make no doubt the Democracy will succeed. They can prove it as easily as Hudibras could prove the truth of his famous proposition in zoological science. It is amusing enough to see men contend without opponents and triumph without victory.

The other principal "issue" which the Democracy are laboring earnestly to decide is of a piece with the one just referred to but it far surpasses the first in absurdity. It is thus stated by one of their journals:

> Do you approve and would you vote for making the negro the [Chinaman and the Kanaka, the social and political equal of yourselves and your families before the law, entitled in every respect to all the rights privileges and immunities which are secured by law to white persons? The Civil Rights Bill, vetoed by the President and passed into a law by Congress confers upon the colored inhabitants all these rights, and it is endorsed by every candidate upon the so-called Union ticket, and every Democratic candidate is pledged against it.

Until recently it had never been argued that a law which gives all persons the right "to buy and sell real estate, to hold property, to sue and be parties to suits, etc., made them "socially and politically equal." This is a discovery which even the Democracy of the Eastern States have not yet made. In the East that party pronounces for "equal rights before the law," that is to say for the principles embodied in the Civil Rights bill, urging the States to give to the colored population the rights which Congress, through the neglect of the States has conferred upon these classes. In many of the Northern States negroes have always asserted possessed and enjoyed these rights, and we have never yet heard of such a thing as "social equality" there. It seems that the Democracy of Oregon are incapable of learning that the impartial administration of justice is one thing, and "social equality" another; that the one may be secured by law, and that the other never can exist. There is no such thing as social equality even among white people, but there are rules of justice which are fixed and inflexible and which apply or should apply alike to all. The different classes of white persons in our country have "equal rights before the law" but they are not "socially equal." Nobody is contending for social equality. And the Democracy in opposing it in a political canvass are engaged in a supererogatory work. They are simply fighting without opponents and will win their point without gaining a victory, for social equality will never prevail.

The above are the principal issues on which the Democratic party is making the campaign. They are contending for nothing and will win nothing. The party of positive principles will inevitably succeed.

Our opponents assure us that the States which revolted are still in the Union. Our answer is: We are aware of it, for we fought to keep them there. Again they tell us that the white and black races must not be placed on an equality with each other. We answer: They are not on an equality and never can be. Thus much for those two great "issues." To further review the absurdities of the two principal "issues" on which the Democratic party stands in the present contest would, therefore, be (as gruff Sam Johnson expresses it) "to waste criticism on unresisting imbecility." By the conduct of its candidates the party shows that it has no distinctive ideas worthy of the name.

PRETTY CORRECT.—Sam Houston's judgment of Jefferson Davis was expressed in the following the logical and logical characterization: "He is as ambitious as Lucifer and cold as a lizard."

He nailed.

The Index, a Democratic paper published at Umatilla characterizes as a downright falsehood the statement published in the OREGONIAN a few days ago to the effect that Lane declared in his Umatilla speech that "if Jeff Davis should come to Washington as Congressman from Mississippi he (Lane) would vote for his admission." The following letter from Umatilla will be a sufficient answer to the Index's article headed, "a lie nailed."

UMATILLA May 14th 1866

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

Seeing in the insignificant half sheet of the Democratic Index of Saturday's issue an accusation of falsehood charged on your editorial in regard to Mr Lane's reply at Umatilla, my regard for justice will not permit me to let such a false statement pass without casting the falsehood back upon them.

I asked the questions referred to viz:

Q.— Are you in favor of admitting Judge [illegible] to a seat in Congress?

A.— I am in favor of admitting him if elected to Congress by the people of the State. [Cheers.]

Q.— Are you in favor of admitting Jeff Davis—if pardoned by the President—or C C Clay or Capt Semmes, if elected from the State of Mississippi to a seat in Congress?

A.— I am in favor of admitting any Congressman to a seat in Congress if elected to Congress by the people of the State. [Cheers.]

Q.—Are you in favor of the repudiation of the rebel debt?

A.—"Sir your question is absurd!" [said in a threatening manner.] [Cheers.]

I cannot bring to mind the name of the rebel Judge. Mr Mallory suggested the name and will recollect it. It was the Judge who hung men in the South for being loyal to the United States.

H S STONE,
And many others.

"WAKED UP THE WRONG PASSENGER."—The Copperhead Convention of Marion county nominated for State Senator, Mr G M Whitney, who upon being notified of the "distinguished consideration," published the following cutting declination:

> The above notice was handed to me to-day, and I wish to say through your columns that my nomination was without my knowledge or consent, and wholly against my wish. Not that I wish to ungrateful[ly] appreciate the confidence of that convention as an indignity upon me but owing to a peculiar train of surroundings, it will prove my serious injury if I cannot make my decline and true status as public as the use that is made of my name. I hold my calling as an humble minister far more sacred than the highest post of honor or profit. And while I have the name of being a minister I cannot get my consent to accept a nomination of any political party. But as I was instrumental in excluding a member of Mill Creek congregation some fifteen months ago for heresy, in making politics a test of Christian fellowship he and others being of my own politics became inveterate in heralding me as a secessionist, rebel, traitor democrat, &c. all over the country. Therefore, it is not unnatural since my enemies are all of my own political household, and since treason, rebellion and partisan democracy sleep quietly together (O never wake them up!) that these loyal ones should manifest sympathy toward me. I thank you gentlemen for your commiseration, and believe you honest loyal citizens. But as I also believe that Democracy will carry in its bosom the stigma of rebellion forever I can never be a Democrat until I can learn to appreciate it as a kindness of my own party in calling me a secessionist.
> Respectfully, G M WHITNEY.

THE UNION RULED BY UNION MEN.—The "Democrats say in their platform that they are grateful to the soldiers through whose patriotic efforts the Union was maintained. Inasmuch as people have heard the Democrats speak of the Union soldiers as "Lincoln hirelings," "abolition thieves," etc., they have been at a loss to understand that plank of the Democracy. O'Meara, who is now the mouthpiece and leader of the Oregon Democracy, explains it as follows:

READ THIS—

"PRETTY RICH.—A big reception time was given at Salem one day last week to Capt Geo Williams of that place who had just returned from the East."—State Rights Democrat, Feb 10th, 1866.

AND THEN THIS

"COL. JOHN LANE.—This gentleman, late of the Confederate service, visited this place during the week, on his way to his father's, in Douglas county. Mr Lane entered that service as a Lieutenant, and by gallant deeds and meritorious conduct won his way to a conspicuous rank. Whatever men may think of the cause for which he heroically battled, they will not fail to admire the earnestness of purpose of one who thus perilled his life in its behalf and whose bravery was attested on a hundred sanguinary battle-fields.—State Rights Democrat, March 10, 1866.

Ah yes, now you see it! The reception of the Union soldier, who lost a leg defending the stars and stripes at Gettysburg, was only fit for Democratic burlesque; but the graybacked Johnny Reb [illegible] is welcomed by the Oregon Democrats [illegible] gallant deeds and meritorious conduct [illegible] attested on a hundred sanguinary [illegible] to break up a [illegible] abominable rebellion to overthrow the Union and the Constitution. Ah, [illegible] we understand the soldier plank in the Democratic platform. The traitor Lane educated at West Point at his country's expense deserts its flag in the hour of peril and goes over to the camp of the traitors, is a hero in the eyes of Oregon Democrats while the Union boy, receiving nothing from the same country but the soldier's pay, is maimed for life in defending the flag, returns to his old home in Oregon, to find that in the eyes of the Oregon Democrats, the traitor Lane is entitled to the honors. Ah, yes, now we see it, ye hypocrites.—Statesman.

The Speech of Hon Geo L Woods

The speech of Mr Woods in this city yesterday (Tuesday) was certainly a very great performance Even those who know him well were surprised to witness the masterly ability he displayed His speech was not only a triumphant reply to Kelly, but it completely crushed him The flimsy Democratic arguments of the present day were utterly demolished by Mr Woods The question of Civil Rights was ably expounded and the doctrine that all men should be dealt with in a spirit of impartial justice, triumphantly defended Mr Woods, in a cogent and lucid argument defended the exemption of United States bonds from taxation, and showed the absurdity of the position of the Democratic party on this subject We have not space to review the speech more at length All parties agree in saying that it was never excelled in Portland Mr Woods is gaining hosts of friends in the canvass

WOULD ADMIT JEFF DAVIS —Col Kelly was charged a few days since with saying that he would be "willing to admit Jeff Davis into Congress if elected." Kelly got hold of an OREGONIAN containing the charge and reading the paragraph to his audience, with great vehemence and some profanity pronounced the charge an "infamous lie. Kelly and Lane thus far, ran parallel courses, precisely. But when Kelly got to Eugene City, after having several times hurled the epithet "lie" upon the paragraph, was brought down from his stilts by a few plain, direct questions from Mr. Woods, in substance as follows:

MR. KELLY.—I pronounce Thad. Stevens and Charles Sumner, greater traitors to-day, than Jeff Davis.

MR WOODS —You say, Col Kelly, that Sumner is more a traitor than Jeff Davis?

MR KELLY. —Yes, I do, emphatically.

MR WOODS.—Suppose, Colonel, that Charles Sumner should present himself to the Senate as Senator elect from Massachusetts—elected "according to the forms of law"—would you or would you not be in favor of admitting him to a seat?

MR. KELLY —I would admit him. My position is that I could not object if he were legally elected.

MR. WOODS —Suppose again, Colonel, that Jeff Davis should present himself as Senator elect from Mississippi—elected" according to the forms of law"—would you or would you not be in favor of admitting him to a seat?

Mr. Kelly saw that he must abandon his position and the position of the Democracy, on the question of admission of Southern representatives, or answer, "YES." HE DID ANSWER "YES." The audience saw the point and fairly yelled their applause at the Colonel's very decided defeat. A similar scene occurred at Salem.

In his speech here yesterday Kelly did not pronounce the OREGONIAN'S charge "a lie," as he had done repeatedly before reaching Eugene City, but admitted, voluntarily, THAT IF JEFF DAVIS SHOULD BE ELECTED TO CONGRESS ACCORDING TO THE FORMS OF LAW, were he a member of Congress HE COULD NOT, UNDER HIS OFFICIAL OATH REFUSE HIM HIS SEAT.

Thus Kelly stands self-convicted of being willing to admit into Congress any red handed traitor who may claim a seat upon credentials showing him regularly elected. Fay, if sent to Congress, will vote to admit any radical secessionist, rebel, or murdering guerrilla, elected, though he might be drenched in the blood of the Union's loyal defenders Lane would do the same; and so would that social pariah, the candidate for State Printor.

From all parts of the State we learn that the Democratic candidates, wherever they have spoken, have cursed Congress and the OREGONIAN jointly and alternately, and with true Democratic energy and fervor. It gratifies us greatly to know that we are distressing them so sorely. About a third part of Fay's speech in this city last week was leveled against the OREGONIAN. Correspondents inform us that Kelly's speeches all through the State have abounded in such convincing arguments as "that's another d—d lie from the OREGONIAN." We suppose these Democratic beauties had hoped to make the canvass without having their record for the last five years alluded to or ventilated. Hence their anger at us for re-producing it. But in spite of their wrathful curses we shall continue to give Fay, Kelly, Lane, and O'Meara a suitable airing till the election is over. After the first Monday in June we shall be done with them, and the people will be done with them, too.

THE UNION SPEAKING LAST NIGHT.—Some time before dark, the Mechanics' Band of Portland began to perform some favorite national airs from the Lincoln House piazza, at which a very large crowd almost immediately gathered to hear Judge Smith. That gentleman spoke for nearly two hours, eliciting frequent and enthusiastic applause at each clinching argument or happy hit at the still treasonable copperocracy. He was followed by W. L. Adams, T. J. Dryer, Capt. Adams, a veteran soldier, Mr Upton, and others, who kept the vast crowd till a late hour The demonstrations of last evening in Portland, show that the Union men of Multnomah are fully aroused to the importance of putting down treasonable men at home as well as doing it on the battle field They will do it on the 4th of June. The contest has become one which now enlists their enthusiasm as well as sense of duty. They will come out of it gloriously victorious.

THE CIVIL RIGHTS BILL.—Since the passage of the Civil Rights bill by the Senate, over the veto, the bill has been generally republished by the press, but with the omission of the latest amendment it has received—an amendment which for some minds it may be important to state It provides that nothing in the bill shall be construed to interfere with the regulation of the suffrage in any State by the Legislature thereof This relieves the measure from the charge of giving the freedmen the ballot or trespassing upon reserved States rights in this respect. The bill of Civil Rights consists of twelve, instead of eleven sections, and is published in this form by many of the leading journals of the East. We have before us the true copy published in the St. Louis Democrat, which contains the additional section relating to suffrage

Stage Robbery and Tragedy in Nevada.

NEVADA CITY, May 15 —The San Juan stage, with six passengers was stopped this morning about half past four o'clock, by three robbers masked They blew open Wells, Fargo & Co 's treasure box and took from the same seven thousand nine hundred dollars None of the passengers were robbed. As soon as the stage arrived in town word was sent to Sheriff Gentry, who immediately started with a posse in pursuit of the robbers The posse separated near Mill's ranch, about three miles from town Not long after separation Steve Venard, formerly City Marshal, got on their track and followed them to Myer's ravine, about two miles from where the robbery was committed Just as he crossed the ravine he looked above on the side of the hill, and about twenty five feet from him saw the head of one of the robbers, who was ready to fire Steve leveled his Henry's repeating rifle and fired, the ball striking him in the left side near the nipple, killing him instantly Robber No. 2 then raised his pistol to fire, but Steve being too quick for him fired hitting him under the right eye and killing him instantly Robber No 3 then started to run, when Steve fired but missed Firing again, the ball passed through his heart Gentry and his posse secured all the treasure and deposited it in town The coroner is now holding an inquest on the bodies The robbers' names have not been ascertained

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16 —No Eastern news to-day

Augustus M Heslep commenced suit in the Fourth District Court against Judge O C Pratt, of the Twelfth District Court, and for cause of action alleges that in 1864 plaintiff had a suit against Captain Charles N. Webber of Stockton, to recover $40,000 for wounds inflicted by Webber who shot him with a pistol At the commencement of the trial Heslep proposed to introduce evidence of the ability of Webber to respond in any damages, which proposition the Court overruled. The jury on the case afterwards awarded $30,000 damages, when Weber applied for a new trial Judge Pratt then informed Heslep after the matter had been argued, that he should be compelled to grant a new trial, but if he would remit one half of the amount of the verdict the case could be dismissed Heslep chose to accept the $15 000 to avoid the vexations and chances of another trial He now claims that the Court had no authority to assess damages which had already been passed upon by the jury and he therefore asks damages in the sum of $20,000 against Judge Pratt

John O'Grady was convicted in the County Court last evening of robbing the Russ House safe The jury recommended him to the mercy of the Court.

MEETING OF THE COMMON COUNCIL.—The regular weekly meeting of the City Council was held last evening. In the absence of Mayor Failing, Councilman McCraken was called to the chair.

The following members were present: Messrs. Gillmore, Lownsdale, McCraken, Plummer, Rosenheim, Thompson and Watkins.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Petition of the Multnomah County Union Club for the use of the "colors," was granted.

A proposition of H. Byrd, to grade Morrison street in front of block 172, at thirty-five cents per square yard, was referred to the street committee.

The Chief Engineer of the Fire Department was authorized to connect the water cistern at the corner of Front and Madison with the street main, and have repairs necessary to the cistern corner of First and Alder made.

Petition of property owners along Salmon street, for the improvement of that street as far west as Eighth street, was referred to the Committee on Streets.

Contracts were awarded to H. Cason for the construction of three new fire cisterns as provided by ordinance.

The Fire and Water Committee, to whom was referred the petition for a new fire company in the First Ward, reported adverse, as the subject should be presented to the Board of Delegates. Accepted.

The contract for the improvement of the fire cisterns along the line of the First street improvement, was awarded to J. H. Perry & Co. The contract for the iron throats for the same, was awarded to David Monastes.

The committee on river improvements reported relative to the proposition of Messrs. Price and Carter for opening navigation in the Willamette, that they deemed it inadvisable to favor a recommendation, on account of having already taken action for the removal of obstructions, as they believed, at a much less cost to the city. Adopted.

The Report of the City Recorder for the month of April was ordered on file. Also, a report of the city surveyor on the opening of Eighth and Ninth streets, North of Stark street, was placed on file.

Warrants were authorized in payment of claims against the city as follows: D. Falkland, burying nuisances $25; ... [illegible] over the doors and windows of house on Market block $71; Seibert & Co., ruling and printing, $40; H. L. Pittock, advertising, $11; H. L. Hoyt, board of city prisoners for April, $60; City Recorder, fees for April, $263 50; City Marshal, fees for April $244 05; P. Ryan, work on Plaza $133 50; Jas. Bennett, work on Fire Department hose, $30.

The improvements on Pine street, made by J. H. Perry & Co. on private contracts, were accepted.

On motion all petitions on the table for license to sell liquor were taken up, and on motion the same were indefinitely postponed, it being understood that petitions were no longer necessary, as persons who could present to the Auditor with an approved bond, under the late Ordinance, could obtain a license.

An ordinance directing the committee on fire and water to contract with the Portland Water Company, for a supply of water for the city, for one year from April 1, 1866, was taken up and amended by striking out $75 and inserting $60 per month as the consideration, when it passed.

An ordinance authorizing the committee on streets to contract for a new sidewalk in front of Engine House No. 2, passed.

An ordinance regulating the hight and slope of sidewalks, passed.

An ordinance describing A street and fixing the boundaries thereof, passed the second reading.

Several localities requiring attention, to prevent them from becoming nuisances, were spoken of and the discussion closed by ordering: 1st, That the street commissioner see to it that no more filth is deposited in the gulch on Front street, at the foot of Jefferson street. 2d, That the filthy pool in the vicinity of the Penitentiary be properly drained, and inquiry instituted as to who the parties are that may be responsible for closing the drain built there at the expense of the tax-payers. 3d, That the filth in the vicinity of the residence of Mr. H. D. Green, be buried.

Warrants for the quarterly stipends due the several Fire Companies, were ordered.

On motion, Council adjourned.

FIRST TRIP OF THE STEAMER FORTY NINE.—From a private letter written by Capt. White, commander of the steamer Forty-Nine, now running in the trade between Colville and the Big Bend mines, we obtain the following synopsis of the first trip of that steamer on the Columbia. The steamer started from Little Dalles on the morning of April 18th, with a light freight and 13 passengers. On the 19th they reached Fort Sheppard, and after a short detention to pass the formalities of a Custom House, left again at noon, and reached the Kootenai rapids. Above the rapids the water was found to be quite low, the rise below being mainly from the Pend d'Oreille river. Lower Arrow Lake begins at Kootenai rapids, and was run through, a distance of about 65 miles, that afternoon, at night all passengers camped ashore. On the morning of the 19th they passed through the narrows, and found the lower end of the upper lake full of broken ice. A [illegible] was made, and boards nailed on the bow of the [illegible] for an ice breaker, and the ice passed through [illegible] of five or six miles. The upper lake is [illegible] miles in length, emerging from which, into the [illegible], the boat was tied up about 15 miles above the [illegible], and the party again camped for the night. On the [illegible] found the river closed by ice in several places, but [illegible] with no serious difficulty, and at 2 P. M. reached a [illegible] about 60 miles from the Upper Lake. This river [illegible] distance is reported to be about the size of the Willamette above Salem, swift—but not rapid—and much more crooked than is represented on the map. The [illegible] or flat between the mountains, is all low land about three miles wide, covered with a growth of timber. On the 20th, rapids with a rise of four to seven feet in one hundred feet, were passed over, about forty miles of which was very difficult, but on the 22d the steamer passed Carnes' Creek about twenty-four miles above the rapids. Found Great Soda Springs, at which all hands took a drink of soda water. On the 23d went up to Kirby's, four miles below Death's Rapids, and on the 24th came to the foot of Death's Rapids. Being then within about fifteen miles of the mines on French Creek, selected a good landing on the east side of the river which is also a good location for a ferry and a town. The site was named La Porte, that being the gateway to the mines. Lay over night and discharged cargo. There was a shipment of tools from Fort Sheppard, on board the Forty Nine, and men employed by the British Columbian Government to cut a trail to the mines from La Porte. On the morning of the 25th the steamer turned about and started on the down trip, reaching Colville, 250 miles from La Porte, in two days, cutting the wood used on the way down. Wood choppers were set to work along the river, and the second trip, it was thought, would be more successful than the first. About 200 men were found in the region, who had crossed the mountains via Suswap, and they reported having passed over snow 20 feet deep on snow shoes, paying Indians 50 cents per lb. for packing for them a distance of forty miles. The snow on that route is now so soft as to be deemed impassable, and very likely it will be mid-summer before any more persons reach La Porte overland from New Westminster.

WHITE BLUFFS.—Much has been said regarding the above locality as a starting point from the Columbia river to "Blackfoot" and "Big Bend." A number of our citizens, who are about as far seeing, and as reliable as the citizens of any other town we suppose, have been to White Bluffs recently, and from them we learn that there is no reason in quarreling about rival routes. White Bluffs is in really a most advantageous position to compete with other sections for the travel, and the inducements for freighters on the road, to connect with either the Forty Nine on the Columbia, for Big Bend or the Mary Moody on the Pend d'Oreille lake, for the mines of Montana, are very great. There are no better roads in the upper country than those leading from White Bluffs. This we have from men who are truthful in their statements. While our informant was at White Bluffs a packer arrived there with his train who has been employed in packing from Fort Hope to Colville. His testimony went to show that the route from Colville to White Bluffs was one calculated to draw the trade formerly enjoyed between Fort Hope and Colville, and after making purchases of such articles as he wanted, to be had at White Bluffs, sent his cargo on to this city, and will leave there on Monday next, with his train, loaded for Big Bend. As regards the route between White Bluffs and Pend d'Oreille lake, our informant asserts positively, and this we consider sufficient, that there is at present teams on the road sufficient to transport any amount of freight that may be offered. The same company owning those teams, Messrs. [illegible] & Co., are also prepared to forward freight to Colville. These are facts, notwithstanding the representations of other parties. In our advertising columns to-day Mr. A. B. Booth announces that passengers will be taken through to connect with steamers Forty Nine or the Mary Moody, at $40 from White Bluffs, and that they will be furnished board during the trip.

NOT THE BEST YET.—We mentioned yesterday having seen a gold bar at Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Office, weighing 419 ounces, valued at $8,000. Yesterday we were shown by Mr. Tracy, Agent for King, Myrick & Co., nine gold bars, melted by Mr. Miller and assayed by Mr. Hagberg their melter and assayer, and among them was one from the Rachel Hill, which in weight is four ounces lighter than one half the John Day's bar we mentioned, yet its value exceeds one half of the same bar by over one hundred dollars. It is 944 fine, worth $19 51 per ounce. As to beauty of workmanship Miller's bar cannot be excelled. We can assure all croakers and disconsolate men that a look at the books of the assay office comparing each month's business this year with corresponding months of last year will show them that there is nothing to growl about. This year's business being far in excess. The accounts of the amount of gold dust being taken out daily at Boise and other camps is indeed very encouraging. We can say to all business men—save your coin, you will have all the bars you can swing.

ARRESTED.—Officer Hudson returned by the steamer John H. Couch yesterday, after a tour down the Columbia in search of Lewis Andrews and Robert Scarborough, half-breeds who are accused of shooting another half-breed named John Andrews, brother of the first, in this city some time since. Andrews was found at Westport, and as soon as he saw the officer tried to escape, but with the assistance rendered him by Mr. West, who stopped his works and allowed all hands to engage in the hunt, the fugitive was captured, and placed in irons. Scarborough was arrested at Cathlamet. They will have an examination before Justice Hoffman. Much credit is due to Mr. West for his kindly assistance. He is generally found on the side of right and justice, and his good endeavors are appreciated.

LAUNCH OF THE MARY MOODY.—The steamer building for the Montana trade on Pend Oreille lake was launched on the 20th of April, successfully, and named Mary Moody, in respect for Mr. Z. F. Moody, one of the enterprising owners. The same letter from which the above information was obtained, states that the steamer would be ready for active business the 10th. She will run at present tri-weekly, and as soon as the trade justifies will make daily trips. Two other steamers are soon to be built to run in this trade, and before many months all doubts about Oregon getting her share of the business of Montana, will be dissipated.

CHINESE ROWS.—A fight occurred in Chinatown on Thursday evening, in which a white man named Miller shot a Celestial on purpose and himself accidentally. The matter was brought before Recorder Hoffman yesterday, but the case was continued until to-day. Another Celestial named How Lee paid a fine of $20 and costs for bruising one of the gentler specimens of his own race.

MARKET BLOCK.—We observe that the city of Portland has at last p[illegible]ion of her right and full control of block 171. The house has been finally and substantially closed.

FRONT STREET.—The lowest bid for the construction of the Nicolson pavement on Front street, between the north line of Pine street, and the north line of C street, was that of Messrs. J. H. Perry & Co., at $3 25 per square yard, which will very likely be accepted by the committee on streets and public property. The lowest bids for the construction of the side walks were made by Mr. Gill and Mr. Stewart.

STATUARY.—The Italian Statuary, advertised for sale by Mr. A. B. Richardson at auction, may be seen to-day at the building of J. Kamm, Esq., corner of First and Washington street. The ladies are invited to call. See advertisement.

CARGO OF THE BARK ALMATIA.—The cargo of the bark Almatia now discharging, at the foot of B street, is very full. In addition to the merchandise on board we observe another locomotive for the Cascades Railroad Company. This new machinery is after the pattern of the one recently imported and bears the name of Col. J. S. Ruckel.

SHOT AND GUNS.—The bark Almatia brings to the commanding officer at Fort Stevens five 10-inch guns, and 605 ten inch shot. Also to the commander at Cape Disappointment a similar amount of ten-inch shot, and ten 10-inch guns.

THE SHOSHONE.—A private letter from Capt. Myrick, states that the steamer Shoshone built by the Oregon Steam Navigation Company, would commence making regular trips on the 14th, Monday next.

Look out for Fun at the Idential Melodeon.—The full Band of Minstrels, consisting of Sam Raymond, the celebrated Banjoist and Negro Performer; Joe. Delovan, the celebrated Negro Delineator; Miss Sturm, Miss Lotta, Chas. Taylor, Chas. Sturm, and others will give nightly performances at the above Saloon, with change of programme. They are all favorites and bound to succeed. Performance commences at eight o'clock. Admission, 25 cents. my17d1t*

BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES.—From the Medical Director of the General Hospital, Benton Barracks, near St. Louis, March 8th, 1864.

"Messrs. John I. Brown & Son, Boston, Mass.—Use of your far famed and most serviceable Troches is being made in the hospital of which I have charge, and with very beneficial and decided results in allaying bronchial irritation." For Coughs and Colds the Troches give prompt relief.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

READ AND REFLECT.

Make sure of HEALTH. "But how?" you ask;
We answer, 'tis an easy task,
Strengthen the Stomach, and sustain
The NERVES, the servants of the brain.
The LIVER keep in active play
And regulate from day to day
Each organ aid, on Nature's plan,
Brace and refresh the INNER MAN,
And like a watch that's kept in chime
By constant care, with railroad time,
The system's tone and strength renew,
And thereby cheer the spirits, too.
"How," you inquire, "can this be done?
This Victory o'er Disease be won?"
"HOSTETTER'S BITTERS," we reply,
Is HEALTH'S SUPREME PROTECTION—TRY!

As a means of regenerating the disordered and enfeebled system, regulating every function of the internal organs, reviving the depressed spirits, invigorating the constitution, and prolonging life, no medicinal preparation either of the past or the present time, has been so completely and universally successful as

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

Against the vapors foul prepare,
That fever-taint the heavy air;
Drink not unmixed the water found
In prairies, woods or marshy ground.
If sedentary toil you ply,
Nature you must assist—or die—
For when debarred from exercise
For artificial aid she cries.
Medicine's grand purpose and intent
Is threatened evil to prevent:
And if you'd be relieved or spared
From ills that crush the unprepared,
Hostetter's Bitters use—for note
They are the SUREST ANTIDOTE.

To set at defiance the miasma of unhealthy soils, the poison of unwholesome water, the effluvia of crowded work-rooms and factories, and the baneful influence of sedentary employments, it is only necessary to be forearmed with

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

Dyspepsia's pangs, that rack and grind
The body, and depress the mind;
Agues, that as they go and come,
Make life a constant martyrdom;
Colics and dysenteric pains,
'Neath which the strong man's vigor wanes;
Bilious complaints, those tedious ills,
Ne'er conquered yet by drastic pills;
Dread diarrhoea that cannot be
Cured by destructive mercury;
Slow constitutional decay
That brings Death nearer day by day;
Nervous prostration, mental gloom—
Heralds of madness or the tomb;
For these—though mineral nostrums fail—
Means of Relief at least we hail
Hostetter's BITTERS—medicine sure
Not to prevent, alone, but cure.

In dyspepsia, fever and ague, bilious complaints, constitutional and nervous debility, constipation, sea sickness, spasms, and in all complaints of Man or Woman proceeding from casual or inherent weakness of the body, the one great remedy and restorative is

S. T.—1860.—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated

PLANTATION BITTERS,

Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities, and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure and must supercede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.

They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of impostors. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unmutilated over the cork, with plantation scene and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in bulk is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steam boats and country stores.

STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise which commands here and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

THE ABOVE PREPARATION, WHICH HAS BEEN recently discovered and patented, is purely a Vegetable Extract.

The undersigned are fully aware of the many unsatisfactory and useless preparations for restoring hair that have been introduced to the public, and how little confidence is to be placed in any pretensions to restoring the hair to bald heads, but having tried MR. HOWARD'S PREPARATION, we are able to state that it not only prevents the hair from falling out, but absolutely reproduces it and that we now have good suits of hair growing where we were entirely bald. Therefore as a matter of justice to Mr. Howard, and a consolation to bald heads we tender him this testimonial. Mr. H. keeps the article for sale in bottles with directions for its use, or applies it himself, as may be desired.

New York Newspapers Twenty-five Years Ago

[From the New York Evening Post of April 10th.]

The New York Tribune to day enters upon its twenty sixth year. The event is commemorated by a general enlargement and improvement of that sheet, and to-night the association of its owners celebrates the completion of its first quarter of a century by a dinner at Delmonico's.

The Tribune was started by Greeley on the 10th of April, 1841—the day of President Harrison's funeral. Its capital was but $1,000, the smallest sum, probably, upon which any prosperous daily journal was ever begun. This pitiful amount, besides was borrowed money and so dismal was the prospect of success twenty five years ago, that the editor of the Tribune has frankly avowed that he would not have started the paper but for the fact that his prospectus had been issued before the death of General Harrison. The success which has since attended the Tribune is the just reward of the enterprise and industry with which it has been conducted, and although in common with many others, we have been compelled to differ from many of the positions assumed in its editorial columns, it cannot be forgotten that the paper has been a bold champion of free labor in the days when no inconsiderable degree of courage was required for the expression of unpopular opinions.

The condition of New York journalism a quarter of a century ago forms so striking a contrast with the advantages of the present that it is curious to recall some of the early memories. Then, there were no telegraphs nor fast ocean steamers no "Associated Press" to systematize the collection of news, no "lightning" presses, no scheme for laying cables under the sea, no great newspaper offices filled with ingenious contrivances for saving labor. In the Spring of 1841, when the first number of the Tribune appeared, it came into direct rivalry with the Herald, which was then a young paper; while the oldest journals in the city were the Evening Post, the Commercial Advertiser, the Journal of Commerce and the Courier and Enquirer. Levi D. Slamm published the Plebeian, the Sun was conducted by Moses Y. Beach, and the present editor of the Times was a sub-editor with Greeley. The World was not thought of, and the Times did not appear until the Tribune was ten years old.

In those days pony expresses were run on election nights, and in times of great excitement the Herald and the Tribune raced locomotive engines against each other in order to get the earliest news, on one occasion, we remember, the sharp reporter engaged for the Tribune "appropriating" an engine which was waiting, under steam, for the use of the opposition agent, and so beating the Herald at its own game. Such passages as this gave zest to the pursuit of intelligence, and sometimes provoked acrimonious discussions between the rival sheets. Nor was the competition confined to enterprises like these. For want of the boundless facilities now afforded by the organized enterprise of the newspaper offices, there were curious experiments in unexpected directions; type was set on board of North river steamboats by corps of printers, who had a speech ready for the press in New York eight hours after its delivery in Albany; carrier pigeons, carefully trained, flew from Halifax or Boston with the latest news from Europe tucked under their wings, and delivered their charge to their trainer in his room near Wall street; an adventurous person, known at the time by the mysterious title of "the man in the glazed cap," made a voyage across the Atlantic in a common pilot boat, twenty years ago, secretly, and with only three or four companions, in the interest of two or three journals which determined to "beat" the others in their arrangements for obtaining early news from abroad. The hero of this exploit is now the foreman of one of the leading daily journals of this city. He failed in his enterprise then, but through no fault of his.

In those days, also, the battle with slavery was fought bitterly. The "Union-savers" at the North bowed down to the Southern slaveholders, and when nine years had passed over the Tribune the compromise of 1850 was effected—not without the strenuous opposition of the editor of that sheet, who is now engaged in the pleasanter task of writing the history of the death of slavery. Two years previously the revolution of 1848 wrapped Europe in the flames of war, and the readers of the Tribune will remember its glowing account of the grand battle of Slievenamon, which was not heard of in Ireland until long afterwards, but in which the Tribune fully believed when it published the ingenious hoax.

The dingy building in which the early years of the Tribune were passed was burned in 1845, and the re-appearance of the paper on the following morning, although at the time the proprietors did not know but they were irretrievably ruined, was regarded by its admirers and opponents alike as an example of enterprise deserving the warmest praise. It was a profitable fire for the Tribune. Although the snow lay knee-deep upon the streets, so that the firemen were powerless to arrest the flames, Greeley and McElrath stood musing upon the ruins and then turned to their work as naturally as if nothing had happened. The paper appeared on the following morning only an hour behind its usual time, and its patrons vied with the conductors of the opposition journals in lending a helping hand. Upon the site of the old building rose the present one—Slamm's Plebeian disappearing from the little gore of land upon the corner which it had [illegible]—and in the ensuing autumn the Tribune was fairly reinstated, having added strength to its editorial force and improved its facilities for conducting business. A year or two later it passed from the sole proprietorship of Greeley & McElrath into the management of a joint-stock company, which has since controlled its fortunes.

In the early days the doctrines of the French socialists found favor in the office of the Tribune—it has since ceased its advocacy of them, and Brisbane no longer enjoys the use of his semi-weekly column for discussions upon the benefits of association. Twenty years ago the lamented Margaret Fuller was a constant contributor to the columns of the Tribune; her place has never been filled. In later years the paper has passed through many changes; at one time during the war, by its own concession, having been seriously straitened in its means, but the evidence of prosperity which it exhibits to-day shows that the evil days are past.

Washington Territory Items.

The Puget Sound Daily of the 10th, says:

We learn, by telegraph from Vancouver, that General Steele and staff started for the Sound yesterday. He will visit Forts Steilacoom and San Juan, and the principal towns on the Sound.

The Weekly of the 7th contains the following in relation to a road connecting the Sound country with that east of the mountains:

'We understand that the question as to whether the Commissioners shall appropriate money out of the county treasury for the purpose of constructing a road from Seattle through the Snoqualmie pass over the Cascade mountains, will be submitted to the voters of King county for determination, at the coming June election. We are in favor of the appropriation, for it strikes us that, the importance of an early completion of that road, cannot be overestimated. With that road completed, communications are opened with all the fine farming and grazing region beyond the mountains, and it is surely desirable to open as many avenues of trade and traffic as possible. The opening of this road will undoubtedly contribute materially to the commercial prosperity of Seattle, and prove most advantageous to every section of the Sound country. The distance to the Columbia river by a direct route through the Snoqualmie pass, does not exceed one hundred and twenty-five miles, we doubt that it exceeds one hundred miles. With this road open, therefore, the Columbia can be reached at a point nearly five hundred miles above its mouth, by a journey of, in no case to exceed, one hundred and twenty-five miles.

The Standard says that Mr. Jacob Ott, of Tumwater, was severely injured by falling from a building upon which he was at work, last Wednesday evening, breaking his arm above the elbow and otherwise severely shocking his system. His arm was set by Dr. Willard, and at last accounts the patient was doing well.

State Items.

In view of the changes that have been inaugurated in the mail service in Idaho and Eastern Oregon, we can see no reason why business men and others, there and here, should not patronize the U. S. mail in preference to any other means of communication. Both mail and express are carried by the same conveyance, and the former travels just as fast, as securely, and as frequently as the latter, and at only about one-fourth the expense to correspondents. For instance, is there any reason why a person in this city, wishing to send a letter to a friend or acquaintance in Boise City, Idaho City, or Ruby City, should give ten cents to an express company, rather than three cents to the United States?

Mr. Brooks, the Special Agent of the Post Office Department, has been laboring faithfully to improve mail facilities, and he says very truly that if the people living east of the Cascade mountains are anxious to have their country developed by the establishment of post routes and mail service, they cannot better effect that object than by bestowing a liberal patronage on the U. S. mails. An accurate account is kept at Washington of the business done on each route, and the Department will not establish or keep up an expensive mail service on routes that yield little or no revenue to Government.

A little statement of Polk county finances illustrates the falsity of the charge which Democrats make against the Union men of that county of extravagance and expenditure and consequent necessity for heavy taxes. The amount of taxes levied in four years, from '58 to '61, both years inclusive, while Polk county was under Democratic rule, was $27,036 73. In very strong contrast with this is the amount levied from '62 to '65 both years inclusive, $12,649 16.

The Civil Rights Act

The following is from the New York Evening Post of April 10th. That paper previously had warmly sustained the President's policy:

This Act which is to day the law of the land secures to every person in the country the right to make and enforce contracts, to sue, to be sued, to be parties and give evidence, to inherit, purchase, lease, sell, hold and convey real and personal property, it guarantees to all alike the full and equal benefit of all laws and proceedings for the security of person and property, and it subjects all alike to the same punishments. Further, it subjects any one to a penalty of fine and imprisonment who for any cause deprives any person of any of these equal rights.

The enforcement of this important law is intrusted to the United States District Courts, either separately or concurrently with the United States Circuit Courts, to one of which any one threatened with such wrong as this law seeks to prevent may remove his cause. In practice the Court will first decide whether such a case [illegible] whether there is reason for the appeal.

It is further made the duty of the Circuit Courts of the United States to appoint from time to time additional Commissioners, who are officers before whom persons charged with violating this law are to be brought for examination. The Commissioner may discharge from arrest or he may commit for trial. Marshals and Deputy Marshals are also obliged to execute all warrants and precepts issued under the provisions of this Act and they may be fined for remissness in duty. The Commissioners may appoint persons to execute their warrants, and these are authorized, if necessary, to call upon the bystanders, and even upon the military and naval forces, for help.

None of the officers created by this law receive salaries but only fees for the services they are called upon to perform. They, as well as the Marshals and other United States officers, are compelled to act if called upon, and to resist them is made an offense punishable by fine and imprisonment. The President is authorized but not obliged by the act, if he thinks it necessary or advisable, to direct the Judge, Marshal or Attorney of the United States District Court to attend at a particular place within the District, for the more speedy arrest and trial of offenders and the President is also authorized but not obliged to employ the military forces for the vindication of the law.

It will be seen that the President has very little to do with the execution of the Civil Rights act; he appoints the Circuit and District Judges when the place falls vacant and that is all. Those Copperhead journals, therefore which have been for a week past urging him to defy Congress, and refuse to execute the law if it should be passed over his veto, only show that they have not read the bill, and that they were opposing and denouncing a measure to which they had not given the most cursory examination. The President, however, is not such a man as these people take him to be. The Washington correspondent of the Tribune telegraphs, no doubt correctly:

"To-night the Democrats are out of humor at every body, and are cursing the President lustily, charging that he could have protected the veto if he would have done properly. They declare that they have done with him. The President expresses himself as satisfied with the result, declaring that if the members conscientiously considered that they ought to pass it he would not object, and would carry out its provisions as far as they depended upon him."

We have explained above the dry details of the Civil Rights Act, because we think it important that they should be generally understood. Those who believe with us that neither peace nor prosperity can be permanent or solid, unless all men are assured of equal protection before the law, will thank the manly majority in Congress, which has stood firm, and has given so just and necessary a law to the land. Now that the law is passed, we may rejoice over the President's proclamation of peace, his restoration of civil law, and withdrawal of military Government. We have gained the great starting point, from which the social problem which distracts the Southern States may be safely left to work itself out, without interference by the General Government. If all men are equal before the law, if all are amenable to like punishments, and are assured the same rights, we shall need no eleemosynary bureaus, no Government charities, but can leave every man to "hoe his own row," to use a common phrase.

If by reason of the extraordinary circumstances of the South there is suffering there which the benevolent in that section cannot relieve, there is money and good will in the North to help, if there is ignorance there which ought to be extirpated, Northern private benevolence will help in this good work. In short, whatever remains to be done, now that equal rights are secured by an effective law, is not for the President, or for Congress, or for Government in any shape, to do, but for the people, in their private capacity, for voluntary associations, churches and other organizations. We do not fear that these will fail, and we hail the passage of the Civil Rights Act, therefore, as the beginning of true reconstruction.

Letter from the Upper Columbia.

LITTLE DALLES, April 29, 1866.

This town of two stores and one hotel was laid out with the expectation of its being the landing and depot for the Upper Columbia mines.

On the evening of the 27th the Forty Nine returned from her first trip, two days from Big Bend Landing, and much to the disgust of our city fathers yesterday went down to White's Landing and returned last night. The boat will leave here to-morrow for Big Bend. About 75 miners are here, waiting for the boat.

Capt. White brought no news from the mines, but reports that 200 men had arrived from Victoria via Shuswap Lake, on snow shoes.

Provisions are scarce and high, flour $125 per hundred; bacon $150 per hundred.

The snow is two feet deep, and there are about 500 persons in the mines. Upwards of fifty batteaux and canoes have gone from White's Landing and here, nearly all of which have arrived at Big Bend ere this.

It is expected that the boat can make the trip hereafter in seven days, her first occupying fourteen. She encountered ice in two places, but by turning the boat's stern to the ice a passage was battered through with her wheel. The weather is cool. We have a shower of rain or hail every day.

BIG BEND

A CHLOROFORMED ELEPHANT.—The Topeka State Record lets off the following guffaw at the St. Louis Republican:

There's a laughable side to almost everything. So there is to President Johnson's veto, and that is the effect it has on the Copperhead press. The St. Louis Republican, whose subsistence for the past five years has been on funeral baked meats, bobs around the arena in perfect ecstasy of pleasure. It slaps the President on the back, calls him "glorious Old Andy," says he is a tower of strength against the assaults of the disunionists, calls on the people to "rally round him," and pirouettes about him as though he were a long lost brother, left in his infancy on a desolate island, but now discovered, recognized and identified by the wart on his elbow, and the elegant voice he has for whisky. The Republican acts like an elephant that has been taking chloroform. Who cares for broken crockery when fun like this is going on?

JOHNSON'S VETO OF THE CIVIL RIGHTS BILL.—The New York Nation, at the close of an able leader demolishing Johnson's second veto, says:

We have striven to speak temperately of this extraordinary message, and to repress the feeling of impatient contempt which its dishonest evasions and unworthy clap-trap have aroused. But justice to the subject demands that we should plainly express our judgment that this message is the most discreditable State paper known to American history. Taking into view all the circumstances in each case, Chief Justice Taney's celebrated opinion becomes almost respectable by comparison. In full view of the legislation of Louisiana, Mississippi and other reconstructed States, which the President has been compelled, by his own sense of decency, to set aside, he has the hardihood to say that the conflicting legislation contemplated by the bill is not likely to occur. In the face of the same notorious facts he asserts that there has not been, nor is there likely to be, any attempt to revive slavery in any of the States. So, after expressly denying the power of Congress to secure the freedmen any right to sue, to testify, to hold property, to make or enforce contracts, to marry or be given in marriage, he calmly assures Congress that he will "cheerfully" co-operate with it in any constitutional measures to preserve to the freedmen their civil rights! In the name of Heaven and humanity, what are civil rights if those which we have enumerated are not included under that term?

TRAITORS MUST BE PUNISHED AND TREASON MADE ODIOUS.—The way Johnson's dictum is being carried out in Memphis is really curious. Almost every drygoods store, bookstore and bar-room in the city is turned into a picture gallery for the display of pictures of rebel Generals. At all the ladies' Fairs these are the principal articles raffled for. At last, to cap the climax, and show the utter odium with which this loyal community views traitors and treason, a store has been opened entirely devoted to the photographs of rebel Generals and traitors of every grade, and agents are canvassing the city in every direction, selling pictures of Davis, Lee, Beauregard, and others of the stripe. The liveliest business going, in these dull times, is selling rebel books and pictures and subscribing to the Lee endowment fund.—Memphis Post.

SOUTHERN LOYALTY.—Since the people of the South have been proclaimed, by President Johnson, well and loyally disposed, a profession of loyalty like the following, which we take from a recent number of the Charleston South Carolinian, may be of interest:

Is it supposed by the North that the issue of the war has had the slightest effect in disturbing any Southern man's faith or convictions as to the rights of the States in relation to the Federal Union, as entertained by all the leading Southern statesmen? Is it supposed by Congress or the North that, in yielding to the power of the United States Government and proclaiming itself submissive in future to the Government, the opinion of the South is so changed as now to prompt their preference of that Government over that which they desired for themselves in the establishment of the Southern Confederacy?

DEATH OF A LINEAL DESCENDANT OF WILLIAM PENN.—On the 3d of April, Peter Penn Gaskill, the head of the lineal descendants of William Penn, the founder of Pennsylvania, died in Philadelphia, after a short illness, on his sixty sixth birthday. The deceased has resided in that city during his entire life. He was noted for kindness of disposition and a genial, gentlemanly demeanor, the delight of a domestic circle, and he enjoyed throughout life the friendship and esteem of a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

British Columbia News

Our Victoria files furnish the subjoined items

FROM FRASER RIVER AND YALE

The steamer Enterprise arrived yesterday from Fraser River with twenty passengers and Dietz & Nelson's river express. The telegraphic news in yesterday's Columbian has been for the most part anticipated. The paper mentions a foolish rumor that has been put in circulation to the effect that Commissioner O'Reilly has been beaten by the soldiers from Colville, who were all Fenians, and who were the first instalment of a large force expected from California to establish Fenian sway throughout the [illegible]. The road tolls collected at Yale for the week ending on Saturday last amounted to $2,537 62. The [illegible] on the Lillooet [illegible] the charge of [illegible] Judge Begbie with his Registrar and the Hon Mr Walkem had arrived in [illegible]. The weather had been very warm at Yale, the thermometer having risen to 90° in the shade.

The following is the Columbian's item:

We have no definite information as to the number of the Americans reported to have deserted from [illegible] and arrived at the Big Bend mines but serious fears are entertained as to the result of a considerable body of armed men making so sudden a descent upon the diggings. It is more than probable that the jumping alluded to in our dispatch has some connection with these new comers and we understand information has been received by the Government which has caused considerable uneasiness. Captain Layton, who brought the news [illegible] Lytton is said to be the bearer of important official despatches relative to the affair. Some are disposed to construe the advent of these men into a Fenian raid.

ABOUT THE 'FORTY-NINE.'

It is gratifying to learn from our correspondent at [illegible] that this steamer has opened the Columbia route to Big Bend having on the 26th ult., landed her first instalment of eighty five men at the Dalles des Morts. Her first being more of a trial trip than otherwise the steamer did not bring a large number of passengers or much freight on her next trip however she will no doubt be laden to her utmost capacity.

A telegram announces the arrival of this steamer at Death's Rapids on Columbia river. The running of this boat in Colonial waters may raise an international question with our American neighbors at some future day but at present, while supplies are needed at the diggings it would not be advisable to place any obstructions in the way of obtaining them as cheaply as possible.

SURGEON GENERAL'S REPORT.—The annual report of the Surgeon General (U. S. A.) for 1865 appears in a neat document of eight pages, into which are crowded many interesting facts. The disbursements in this department for the year were $19,328,180 21. This expenditure covers the most important military period of the rebellion, including Sherman's grand marches and Grant's successful operations which culminated in the complete overthrow of the rebels. Hospital supplies and stores had reached the maximum of accumulation. There were 204 general hospitals, with beds and other provisions for 136,894 patients, besides all the field hospitals, transport cars and ambulance trains. Of this number 188 died from wounds or diseases incurred in the service. The cases treated in the general hospitals alone, during the year under review numbered 1,057,423, of which the mortality was 8 per cent. A record of the more important diseases and surgical operations was kept in 30,000 cases, and a pathological collection made of 7,630 specimens.

HOW NATURAL, AND YET HOW AGREEABLE it is to enjoy the comforts of a good bed to rest his or her weary limbs upon and I can say from experience that there is no style of bed that compares with the MOULTON SPRING BED BOTTOM, BROMLEY'S PATENT, for Health and Comfort. Durability and Cheapness; can be attached to any bedstead and does not get out of order. The model of this bed bottom can be seen at HENDEE'S PHOTOGRAPH GALLERY and orders taken for all that may wish to purchase. Also the full size bed in working order can be seen on [illegible] short notice at Mr Wilcox's Furniture Store, on Front street, near the bridge. Price—Double-Bed $10. Single-Bed, $7.

Mr Hendee will take by his New Invention Head Pictures for $3 00 per dozen. Will be at his Rooms from 9 A M to 1 P M.

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.

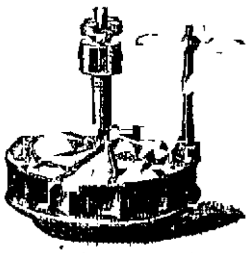
WATER WHEELS.

POWER PLEDGED EQUAL

TO THE

Best Overshot Wheel in Existence.



LEFFEL'S

American Double Turbine Water Wheel

IS NOW MANUFACTURED BY THE OREGON IRON Works, in the city of Portland, and orders for the same can be filled immediately. We have a small supply of the different sizes, from 10 inches to 48 inches in diameter. That we may know the proper sized wheel you require, measure your water in the following way: Take the width of the stream, the average depth, and the distance it flows in a minute.

All the wheels now in use give universal satisfaction. Both the construction of the wheel and its performance, commend it to the better judgment of all minds capable of appreciating the highest development of mechanical construction. Therefore it has conquered the most violent opposition.

This wheel is especially adapted to mining purposes. It is light, and can be easily packed into the mountains. Wheels weighing from 100 to 300 pounds will yield from 10 to 40 horse power, under a head of 25 or 30 feet. They are the cheapest wheel to set up, known, as they are so arranged as to produce the greatest power possible from the water used.

The prices of these wheels have now been reduced to the ability of all. Come and see them or send for a circular to
